GUIDELINES FOR THE SUBSTANTIVE CONSOLIDATION OR JOINT ADMINISTRATION OF RELATED DEBTOR ENTITIES

TO: ATTORNEY FOR MOVANT

The following guidelines have been developed to assist you in achieving the cost-saving measures you desire.

1) In the JOINT ADMINISTRATION of related debtor entities, the assets and liabilities are not merged. It is done as a matter of convenience, a cost saving device. It does not affect creditors' rights. A single docket sheet is used but separate claims registers are maintained.

An order for joint administration must identify the following:

- < Specify the lead case by name and number.
- Specify a single caption listing all debtors and their respective case numbers to be used on all pleadings, motions, operating reports and other papers served or filed in the cases. Include a completed title page as an exhibit. [See sample printed on reverse side.]
- < Specify that a combined service list will be used for the cases.
- < Specify that combined notices will be sent to the creditors of the estates.
- < Specify that multiple claims registers will be maintained.
- < Specify that any deviation from these procedures will be by order of the court.
- 2) With the SUBSTANTIVE CONSOLIDATION of related debtor entities, all assets and liabilities of the debtor entities are merged into a unitary debtor estate, to which all holders of allowed claims are required to look for distribution. It affects substantive rights of the parties and may impair the rights of certain creditors. A single docket sheet and a single claims register are maintained.
